The Viterbo University Fine Arts Center:

The Viterbo Fine Arts Center will be sharing "Isolation Inspiration" on our social media channels. There are few things we love more than coming together for the creative inspiration the arts can provide, but the necessity of social distancing has led us to consider how we can still find and practice creativity in these uncertain times. We'll be connecting with staff, faculty, alumni, and students of the Fine Arts Center to see how they are continuing to seek out artistic inspiration and fulfillment in the midst of isolation. Look for posts using #isolationinspiration, and share with us your own pursuits of creativity and inspiration. Follow @viterbofac on Facebook

(www.facebook.com/ViterboFAC/) and

La Crosse Youth Symphony Orchestra:

The La Crosse Youth Symphony Orchestras are presenting a new, weekly segment, Playlists2Connect, going through the month of April. Since we can't connect directly, we asked our faculty and staff to share some music that's keeping them motivated during this time. We hope this music resonates with you and keeps you connected with us through these times! Click the following link and follow us on social media (@LYSO20) to keep the music flowing.

The Driftless Urban Orchestra (DUO) is the region's newest professional chamber orchestra, and while you might not know us yet, we are here for YOU during these difficult times. Music can keep us connected during this time of distancing and isolation, and to that end, DUO wants to share some of the chamber music helping us to feel connected with each other, if only in spirit. While we can't wait to perform some of this music for you live, follow us on our social media channels and visit our new website to discover new, compelling voices alongside some old favorites.

The University of Wisconsin Choral Union:

Some of which we have performed in our history, and some of which we are planning to perform in the near future. We have chosen to release these recordings on Mondays as this is the same evening we usually rehearse, should these incredible masterworks inspire you to join us next year! Please "like" the UWL Choral Union on Facebook so you can enjoy some recordings of the most grandiose music in the classical catalog!
